Understanding your business

Step 1: Establishing a relationship

At North Star, we feel that the establishing a good relationship with the business owner is key to helping and understanding the needs of the business. We establish this relationship by:

- Meeting to find out how your business operates and functions on daily basis.
- Discussing who your employees are and what is important to them.
- Identifying key employees.
- Laying out the needs, experiences and expectations for the services North Star can provide.

Step 2: Gathering information

After we have established our relationship, we will gather some information about the company and employees by:

- Filling out a questionnaire about the areas of need, like retirement and health care.
- Have employees fill out questionnaires about what benefits they would like.
- Reviewing any current plans that you have in place.
- Preparing a summary of our finding.

Designing your plan

Step 1: Review Scopes of Services

After we have gathered information, the next step is to review and establish what services you would like North Star to provide. We will start to design a plan to fit your needs by:

- Identifying the services you would like North Star to provide.
- Defining and documenting the roles and responsibilities of various people depending on services provided.
- Establishing what service providers will be required for the solutions you choose. Examples could be the Third Party Administrator (TPA) for a 401(k) plan.
- Creating a timeline for implementation.

Step 2: Analyze and evaluate needs

Once we have identified what services we will provide, we will analyze your exact needs as they relate to those services. We will make specific recommendations by:

- Analyzing the different solutions that are available.
- Evaluating those different solutions based on your needs.
- Providing you with specific proposals on the different options.
- Reviewing the pros and cons of each option with you.

Step 3: Choosing the right plan

After looking through the pros and cons of each option, the next step is to choose the plan that best fits your needs by:

- Establishing which solution you want to implement.
- Decide what third party providers will be necessary to implement the plan.
- If there is choice in third party providers, determining which one will provide you with the service that you need.
- Finalizing selection of provider.
- Finalizing selection of right product if applicable.
